A NEW KIND OF PERU

No one knows South America quite like Aracari, and that's why the bespoke operator's new tour to the lesser-known corners of Peru is sure to delight those in search of authenticity. While the charming colonial city of Arequipa and Peru's Colca region remain largely unvisited by tourists, the recent launch of South America's first luxury sleeper train, Belmond Andean Explorer, has made the area more accessible than ever, and in 2018, Aracari invites its guests to experience the historic and environmental allure of these previously overlooked destinations first-hand. aracari.com
